Join Us for WINTERSET 2007:
In Nine We Trust: How the Supreme Court Got the Last Word

WinterSet, a winter tradition in the Lakes Region for over ten years, welcomes you to subscribe to this year's film and lecture series, beginning on January 25. This year's theme is The Supreme Court beginning with an interactive discussion session on The US Constitution on day one at noon with Lucy Mueller, a trainer from Brown University's Choices Program. All films and talks are held at Geneva Point Center, Moultonborough, NH on consecutive Thursday afternoons beginning January 25. Films are held at noon with a brown bag lunch, followed by a talk and Q&A at 2 pm.

The 2007 series schedule is as follows:

January 25, Frank Michelman, Walmsley University Professor, Harvard Law School:
"The Constitution as Law"

February 1, Richard Hesse, Professor Emeritus, Franklin Pierce Law Center, Concord:
"The United States Supreme Court: How does it operate:"

February 8, Fred Schauer, Professor of the First Amendment and former Academic Dean, Kennedy School of Government, Harvard: "Separation of Powers in War and in Peace"

February 15, Charles Geyh, Professor of Law, Indiana University, Bloomington, Ill. and author of "When Congress and Courts Collide": "Congress and the Supreme Court"

February 22: Richard Hesse, Professor Emeritus, Franklin Pierce Law Center, Concord:
"A Conversation with John Marshall"

All interested people are welcome to attend. Registration forms and additional information can be found at www.NortheastCulturalCoop.org or by sending an email to ncc.blanche@comcast.net or by calling 603-673-8470. This series has a fee of $60. per person and includes all films and talks. Films will be announced in advance of each session. A suggested reading list is sent upon receipt of registration fee and additional texts can be found at your local library on reserve.
